Base Pay

Approach

How are base pay decisions made?

Rewards decisions are always made in the context of the market, affordability and business outlook. This year, we are doing some base pay increases in December in key growth areas. Individual decisions are based on our rewards principles, including market / position in range, impact, and skills. Going forward, similar to the timing of promotions, we will shift more of our base pay increases to June which is when we have better visibility into client demand and our own fiscal year momentum.

Visit FY24 Rewards and Performance FAQs for more information.

Bonus

Approach

How are decisions on bonuses made?

Talent leads personalize bonus awards considering an individual's impact and behaviors over the past year. They use insights from the talent discussions and award the highest bonuses to those who have had truly distinctive impact and exemplary behaviors. Keep in mind that as individual performance varies from year to year, bonuses are likely to vary from year to year as well. For your country and level, the majority generally received a bonus award between 6%-11%.
